Every developer should contribute to open source

Why?

Improve your skills

Build a portfolio

Get a job – in OSS!

Teach best practices

Engage a community

CASE STUDY:
sinon-bluebird

What it was

Sinon with a promise API

A few simple functions

About 80 lines of code

Baked into our app code

It seemed like a useful thing to share

Todd was initially unconvinced

Moving to open source

Cleaned up the code

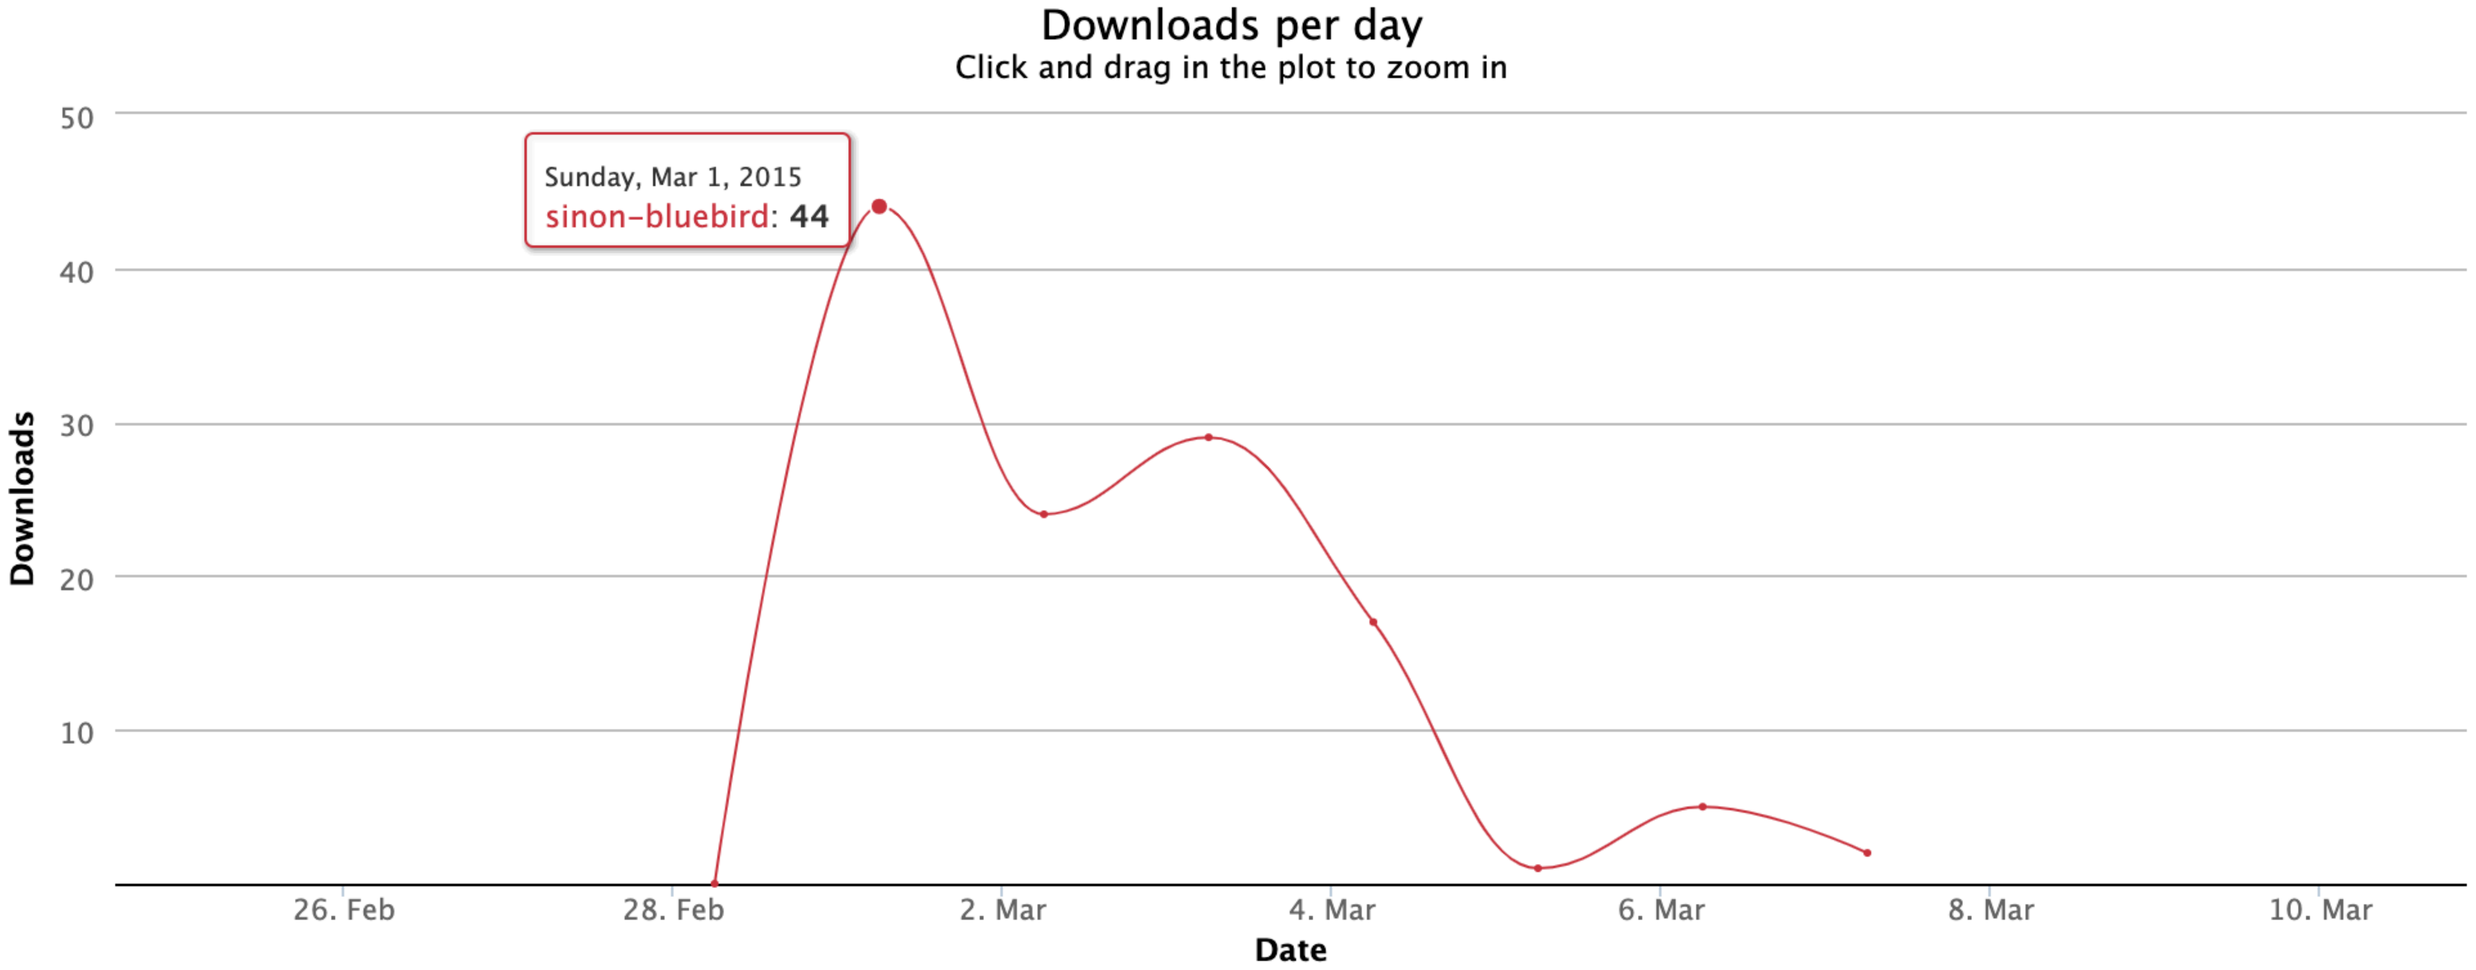
Added comments

Added unit tests

Added docs

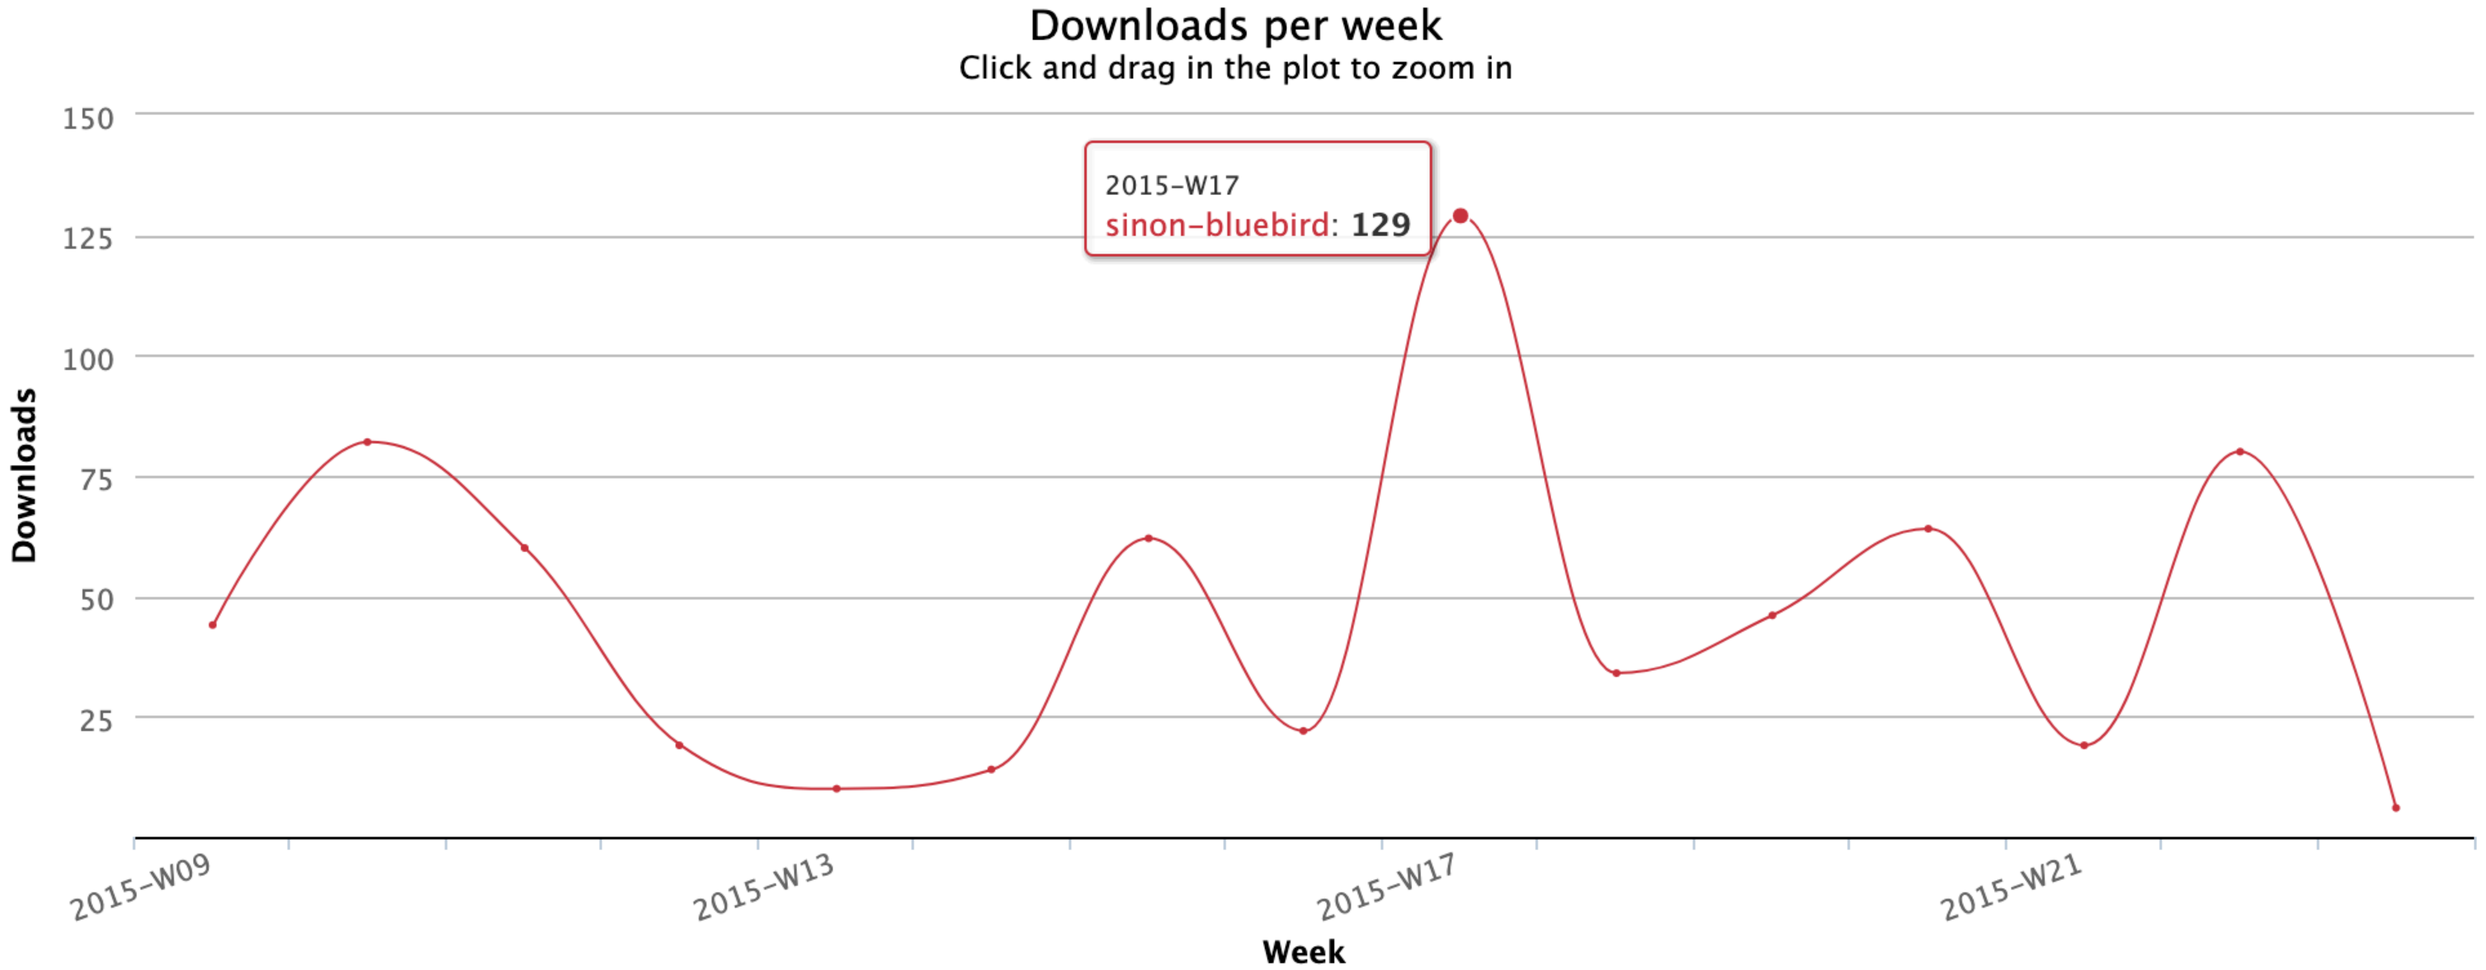
Moved to dedicated repo

```
npm publish
```



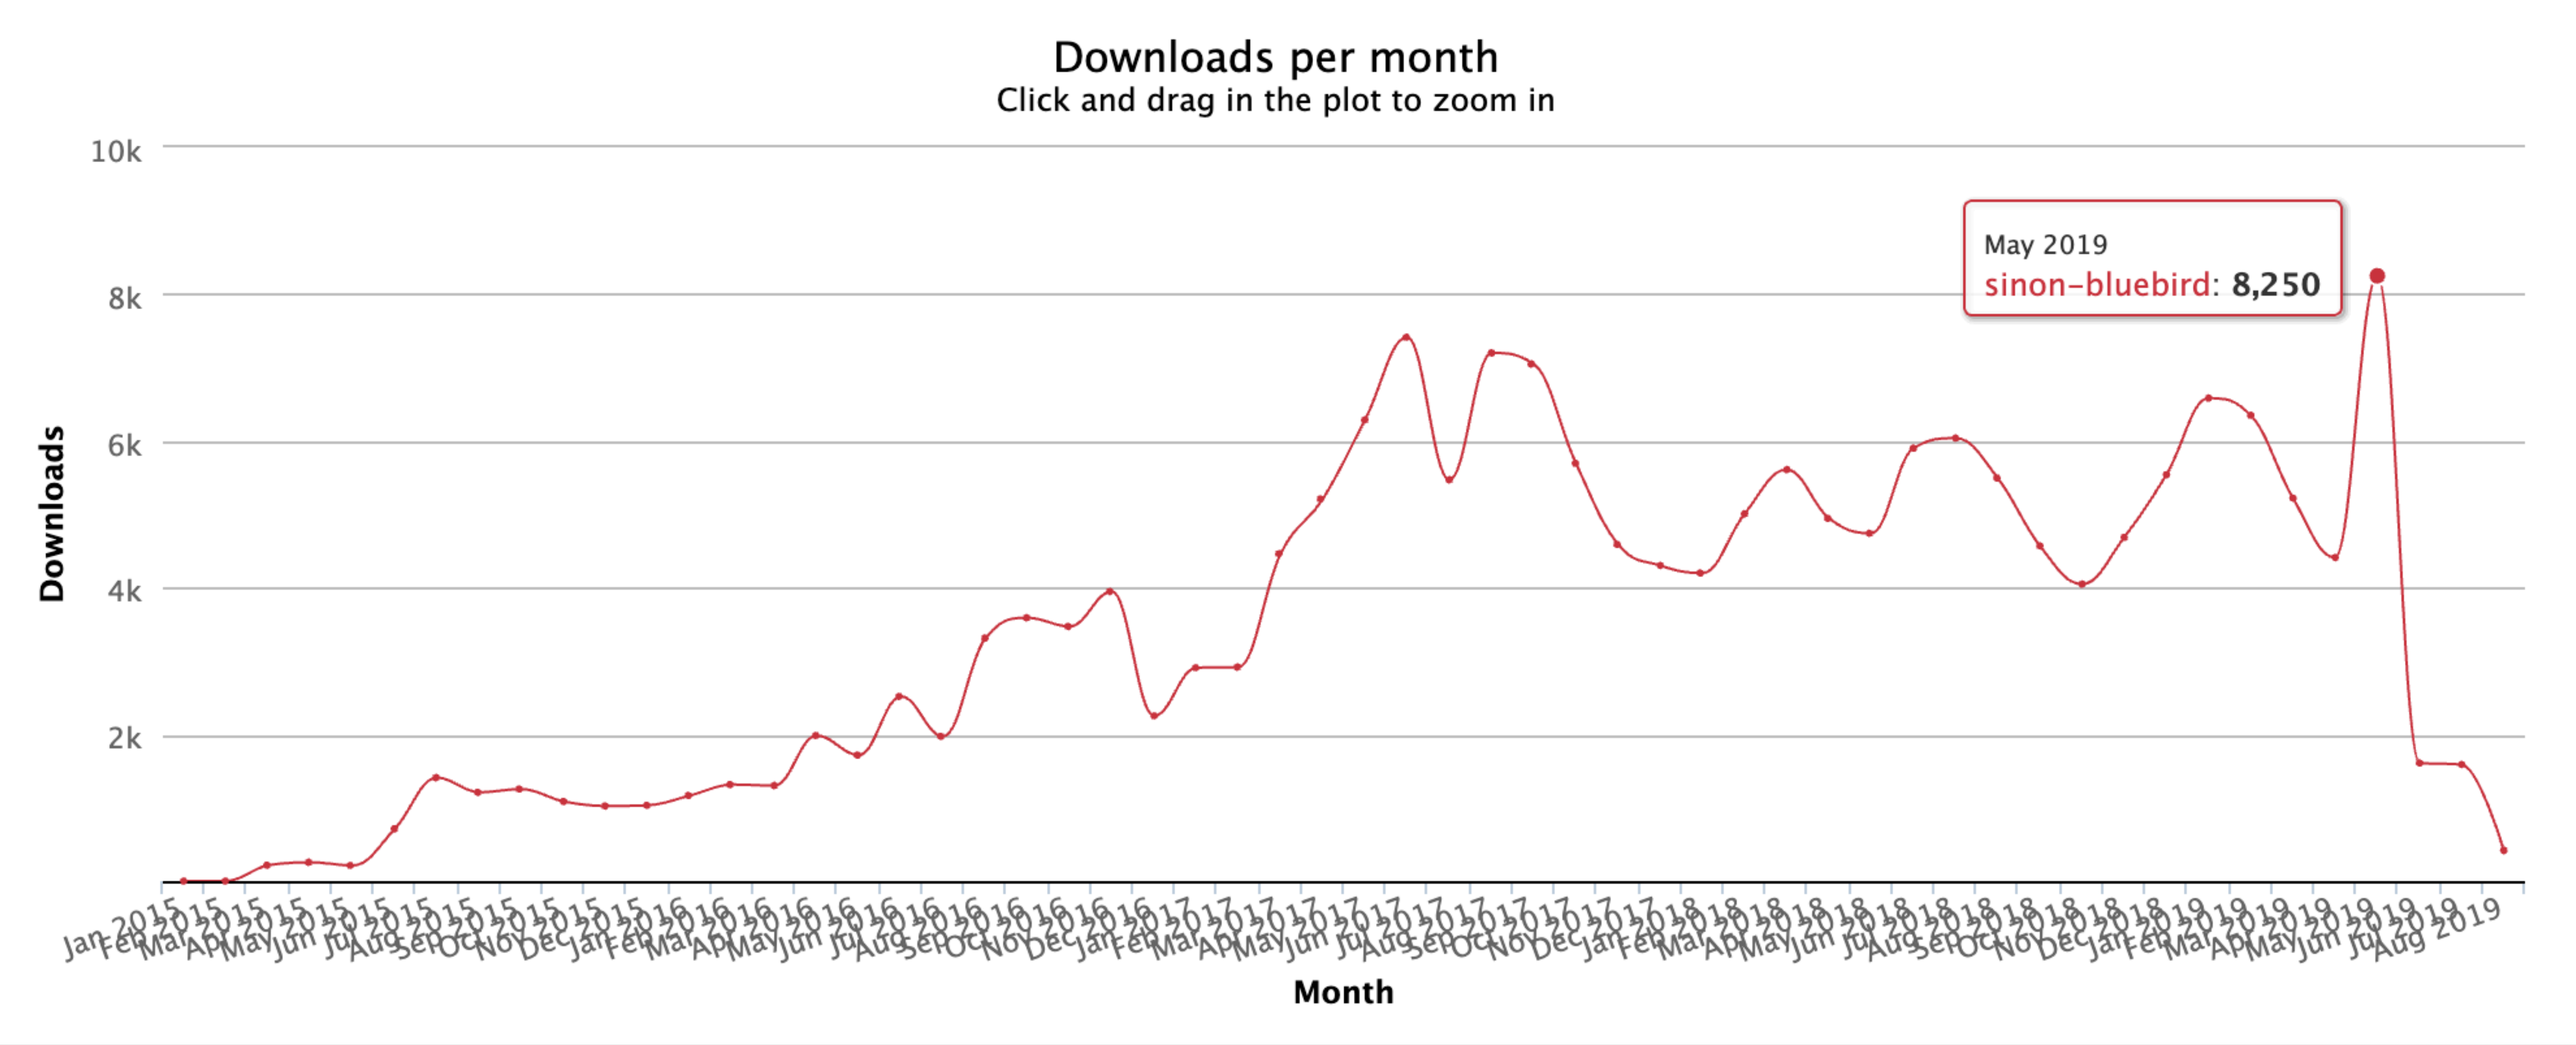
First Week: 122!

Todd



First 3 Months: 691

Then we sort of forgot about it



After 4 Years: 196K

Improve project docs

Contribute a translation

Add a demo

Fix a bug – typos count!

Code review a PR

Add a new feature

"Open Source"
doesn't have to mean code either
